

Millennium Volunteers Newsletter

Hello, hello, hello, and welcome to the October edition of the Newsletter, (and you know what October brings.... Halloween!)
In this edition, we will be reporting on young people volunteering in the Vale of Glamorgan.
Have a great one...

For those of you that have completed 50 hours MV.

We would like to take this opportunity to welcome our new Millennium Volunteers. Alice Lovatt, Thomas Burley, Thomas Vaughan, Rhiannon Herring, Luke Ashill, James Jones, Richard Dobie, Chelsea Redclift, Marc George, Melissa Masterson, Callum Osbourne. We would like to wish them the best of luck in their volunteering.

On the 24th of August, there was an award ceremony, where a number of volunteers received their Star, Millennium Volunteers and Agored Cymru qualifications.

Star Volunteers...

Keira Stanton received her 200 hour reward of excellence, also, Keira won the overall award of Wales Volunteer of the Year. Congratulations to her.

Millennium Volunteers...

Ahden Rollings, Laura Roberts, Margaret Cunningham.

Agored Cymru...

Laura Roberts, Ginny Phipps, Brian Claypole, Nico Wallace, Kenny Westgate, Kaidy Herring, Ellie Davies, Lewis Davies, Matthew Langford and Simon Woodward. Congratulations to all of the above who have achieved their qualification.

This year Dish out Dosh received £10,500 to fund a number of youth led volunteering projects based in the Vale of Glamorgan.

The panel is made up of 5 young people- Jess, Alex, Matthew, Carys and Thomas.

The grants panel is responsible for promoting the project, writing the application forms and providing advice on how groups can apply for the funding.

Following the work that the grant panel have done in promoting the project they received 8 applications totalling more than the value of the grant they had to offer.

Six out of the eight projects have been funded.
